Social and Personal.

Richmond society is much interested in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Annie Wise Mayo to Mr. James Brandt Lailmer, of Chicago.

Miss Mayo is the daughter of Mrs. Ellen Wise Mayo and the late William Carrington Mayo, a very distinguished linguist and a member of an old and prominent Virginia family: the grand-daughter of the late Governor Henry A. Wise, of Virginia, and a niece of Mr. John Sargent Wise, of New York.

Miss Mayo is a clever and accomplished downalistic and magazine writer, and is a very handsome young woman with many friends in Richmond.

Mr. Latimer, who formerly lived in a very handsome young many friends in Richmond.

Mr. Latimer, who formerly lived in Baltimore, is a son of the noted authoress, the late Mrs. Elizabeth Wormley Latimer. In Chicago, Mr. Latimer is associated as a civil engineer, with the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy Railroad. He is connected with several prominent Virginia families.

The wedding will take place next November in St. Paul's Church, and will be one of the fashior ble autumn events.

The Annual Concert.

The Annual Concert.

The annual concert of the Woman's College commencement took place in the college chapel and was a brilliant affect.

college chapel and was a brilliant affair.

The college chapel was handsomely decorated with paims and white roses and was crowled with the friends of the students and the faculty. The young ladies who took part in the programme did so, with remarkable ease and grace, displaying their thorough training and winning laurels for themselves and their aima mater. Several vocal numbers were contributed by Mrs. Martin and Miss Cofer, both of whom were in excellent voice. The following programme was presented:

(a) Prelude, C Sharp Minor, Op. 45 (Chopin); (b) Scherzo a Capriccio (Mendelssonn), Miss Susie Harris.

Elow, Soft Winds (Vincent), Misses Mackies and Williamsom.

Humoreske, Op. 154 (Von Wilm), Miss Uldine Valden.

Fantasie Sur "Il Trovatore" (Wollenhaupt), Miss Elizabeth Taylor.

(a) Thou Art So Like a Flower (Chadwick); (b) A Summer Girl (Sargent), (c) Sc Long, So Long (Denza), Miss Bessie Wilson.

Frau Holle, Op. 125, No. 1 (Bendel), Miss

Wilson. Frau Holle, Op. 135, No. 1 (Bendel), Miss

Laurie Dillard. Nymphs and Fauns (Bemberg), Miss Myra Ackies. La Gondola (Henselt), Miss Nona Har-

Protestations (Norris), Miss Madge

Protestations (Norris), Inless Mades Eowie.

Violin Obligato, Mr. Reinhardt.
Concert-Stuck, Op. 73 (Weber), Missi Miss Tallulah Caine.
The annual alumnae luncheon was given at 1:30 o'clock yesterday in the Richmond Hotel. The graduating class of 100 were the guests of honor, and were seated at a long table occupying the seater of the rooms.

grated at a long table occupying the center of the rooms, Decorations in class ribbons and flowers fully carried out the idea in sentiment of the golden college jubilee.

Many of the alumnae responding to the semi-centential invitation, were present from Virginia and other States to do honor to their beloved aima mater, and to renew ties and associations dating back to auld lang syne.

Miss Lottle Reaford replied to the welcome given the class of 1904 by the president of the Alumnae Association. The prosiding officer at the luncheon was Mrs. R. E. Gaines. Miss Belle Willingham is the treasurer of the association, and Miss Clara Virginia Becker, the corresponding secretary. Miss Mary Carter Anderson was the ready and witty toast-derson was the ready and witty toast-derson was the ready and witty toas nistress of the afternoon, Mrs. Watkins was the chairman of arrange ments, and Mrs Harvey Clarke of the ments, and Mrs Harvey Clarks of the menu.

Among others present at the lunch were Mrs. Julian Thomas, Mrs. Ezekiel, Mrs. William P. Matthews, Mrs. Saille Harris, Mrs. L. C. Tucker, Mrs. A. M. Gwathmey, Mrs. Bomar, Miss Petrona Powell, Miss Fannie Lipscomb, Miss Margaret Crismond, Miss Garlick, Miss Edna Butler Simpson, Miss Lena Butler, Miss Annie Garnett, Mrs. Minnie D. Smithers, Mrs. M. C. Nottingham, Miss Evelyn Macreath, Miss Genevieve Petit, Miss Madge Bagley, Miss Hattie Garrett, Miss Eva Murdoch, Miss Emma Bowe, Miss Ruth Burton, Miss Neil Sinton, Miss Jessie Lane, Miss Mamie Guthrie, Miss Emma Whittield, Miss Kate Ryland, Miss Emma Whittield, Miss Kate Ryland, Miss Miriam Milhiser, Mrs. L. M. Hirchfield, Miss Pattie McGhee, Miss Louile Moghee, Miss M. Hirchfield, Miss Pattle McGhee, Miss Louile McGhee, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. William R. Jones, Miss Lucy Moseley, Miss Inez Barnes, Mrs. Clarence Livesay, Miss Mary Traylor, Mrs. William H. Lyne, Mrs. Grayson Fairbank, Mrs. Charles Winston, Mrs. J. M. Whitfield, Miss Nannie Adams, Miss Page Walker West, Miss Gay Broaddus, Miss Emmie Allison, Miss Nettie Franklin, Miss Denise Morris, Miss Mary Herndon, Miss Malen Rurnett, Miss Delma Spencer, Miss Eu-Burnett, Miss Delma Spencer, Miss Eu-nice Kirk, Mrs. Seward, Mrs. Helen Adams Gray Dodamead, Miss Saille Lipscomb, Mrs. Rebinson and Miss Lucy

Burton-Morris.

Burton—Morris.

The wedding celebration of Miss Grace Denegree Morris and Mr. Branch Bernard Eurton-took place at 3 P. M. June of the bride's uncle, Mr. Leroy Brown, of No. 925 West Grace Street, the Rev. Dr. W. J. Young, of Centenary M. E. Church, officiating. The bride was gowned in a going-away costume of light brown, with brown hat and gloves. She was attended by his sister, Miss Lena Burton, as maid of honor, who were white silk net over taffeta, and carried American Beauties.

The bride's flowers were a shower of The bride's flowers were a shower of

The bride's flowers were a shower of lilies of the valley and Bride roses. The best man was Mr. G. William Green. Little Clarence Blair Brown led the bridal procession, carrying the prayer book and license.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton will return from a Northern trip to make their home at No. 303 Reland Street. Mrs. Burton, who

No. 303 Roland Street. Mrs. Burton. Who is a member of Centenary Church choir, is the daughter of Mr. W. D. Morris, of Petersburg, and has for some time made her home in Richmond with her uncle, Mr. Brown. Mr. Burton is associated with the Cable Company in business, and is widely and popularly known.

Reception at Woman's Club. The reception to be given this evening om 6 to 8 in the parlors of the Woonly on account of the presence of the International School editors, many of

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it to-day. Try a denous and neathful dessert. Pre-pared in two minutes. No boiling! no baking! add boiling water and set to cool. Flavors:—Lemon, Orange, Rasp-berry and Strawberry. Get a package at your grocers to-day. To cis.

Wedding Gifts.

We have an exquisite collection of the latest designs in Sterling Silverware and Rich Cut-Glass, that will please June brides.

Graduation Gifts.

Inexpensive, dainty gifts, appropriate graduation-gifts of intrinsic worth-which will be treasured by the graduate and forever recall the giver's generosity.

Let us show you the latest novelties.

Schwarzschild Bros.,

Leading Jewelers, Cor. Second & Broad Sts.

whom will be accompanied by their wives, but because the reception committee will have with them Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, the widow of the great Confederate leader: Mrs. Parrow, formerly Miss Sue Savage, of this city, and now the president of the Laurens, South Carolins, Chapter of Daughters, and Miss Poppenheim, of Charleston, S. C., prominent in Confederate and club matters, and the sister of Mrs. Hagh Miller, of this city. Ladles of the club receiving will be: Miss Jane Rutherfoord, president; Mrs. J. A. Lefroy, first vice-president; Mrs. Claire Guillaume, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Guillaume, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. S. W. Travers, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. J. Montague, Mrs. L. L. Lewis, Mrs. Charles Davenport and Mrs. J. Cal-rin Stewart.

Quite a number of books have been presented for the traveling library, but nore would be gladly received, especialworks of travel, biography and nature

Attractive Entertainment.

An attractive and amusing entertainment is anticipated for Friday evening, June 10th, from 6 to 10 P. M. on the lawn June 10th, from 6 to 10 P. M. on the lawn at the corner of Madison and Grace Streets. It will be given under the auspices of "In the Service of the King" Circle, No. 2, King's Daughters. The cards announcing this read as follows: "Come to the Friday frolic, And buy some June Joyfulness. While you listen to musical melodies." There will be no admission fee. The members of the Circle are: Miss Josephine Tyjer, leader; Misses Madge Bolling, Jean Cameron, Adele Clark, Gertrude E. Clark, Mary R. Lathrop, Charlotte R. Poythress, Porter Sands and

Charlotte R. Poythress, Porter Sands and Virginia Sands. Second Commencement.

The second commencement of the Rich will take place at the Woman's Club, Monday, June 13th, at 8:30 P. M.

President Blackwell, of Randolph-Ma-con College, will deliver the address of the graduates, and the audience will be assured of an interesting and profitable assured of an interesting and profitable evening.

There will be no cards of admission, but the public are most cordially invited to be present.

The graduates having completed a two

The graduates having completed a two years' course are Misses Evelyn Gray Bell, Katherine Louise Bullock, Lucy Singleton Coleman and Virginia Adair Minor. Those having completed a three years' course are Misses Annie Bates, Isabelle Buchanan, Lou Belle Catesby Jones, Annie B. Kirk and Alice B. Moncure.

CHAPTER XXIV .- CONTINUED.

"I do mean it." replied Jocelyn, quietly.

"I do mean it." replied Jocelyn, quietly. There is no hatred so complete, so merciless, his the hatred of a woman for one who has wronged the man she loves. At such times women do not pause to give fair play. They make no allowance. Jocelyn Gordon found a sort of fearful joy in the anger of this self-contained Englishman. It was an unfathomed mine of possible punishment over which she could in thought hold Victor Durnovo. "Nothing," she went on, "could be too mean—nothing could be mean enough—to mets out to him in payment of his own treachery and cowardice."

She went to a drawer in her writingtable and took from it an almanac.

"The letter you have in your hand," she said, "was handed to Mr. Durnovo exactly a month ago by the woman at exactly a month ago by the woman at Msala. From that time to this he has done nothing. He has simply abandoned "He is in Loango?" inquired Oscard, with a premonitory sense of enjoyment in his voice.

"Yes."
"Does he know that you have sent for me?"
"No," replied Jocelyn, Guy Oscard smiled.
"I think I will go and look for him," he said.

At dusk that same evening there was a singular incident in the bar-room of the only hotel in Loango.

Victor Durnovo was there, surrounded by a few friends of antecedeuts and blood similar to his own. They were having a convival time of it, and the consumption of whiskey was greater than might deemed discreet in such a climate as be deemed discreet in such a climate as that of Loango.

Durnovo was in the act of raising his glazs to his lips when the open doorway was darkened, and Guy Oscard stood before him. The half-breed's jaw dropped: the glass was set down again rather unsteady on the zine-covered counter.

"! want you," said Oscard.

There was a little pause, an ominous silence, and Victor Durnovo slowly followed Oscard out of the room, leaving that ominous silence behind.

"I leave for Msala to-night," said Oscard, when they were outside, 'and you are coming with me."

Till see you damned first!" replied Durnovo, with a courage born of Irish whickey.

Guy Oscard said

CUT THIS OUT AND KEEP IT. You Will Want to Read this Story

WITH EDGED TOOLS. BY HENRY SETON MERRIMAN. . . ONE OF MERRIMAN'S STRONGEST BOOKS . .

ill be editied by attending the comwill be edited by attending the com-mencement exercises.

The school has had a fairly prosperous session, and efforts are now making to incorporate the institution, enlarge the board of trustees, and extend its sphere of influence and user hiness.

Gossip of Society. Miss Anabel Jonkins, of Norfolk, Va., who has been visiting Miss Rachel Cooke on South Third Street, is now the guest of Mrs. C. O. B. Cowardin, at No. 1108 Grove Avenue.

Miss Lucy Brookes, of West Point, Va., is spending some time with Mrs. Wil-liam McKain Marriott, at No. 1416 Grove

Mrs. William Law Clay, of Savannah, Ga., with her children, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Hunter Holmes McGuire, in this city, Mrs. Clay expects to go from Richmond to the mountains of North Carolina.

The Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd and Mrs. Lloyd, of Orange, N. J., who have been visiting friends in Richmond and went from here to "Staunton Hill," to attend the wedding last week of Miss Evelyn Baylor and Mr. Pelham Blackford, are now at Virginia Beach, where Mrs. Lloyd and her daughter will remain several weeks.

Dr. Joseph White and Miss Sophie White have returned from a very pleasant visit to the World's Fair in St.

Mrs. John Randolph Tucker and Miss Margaret Tucker are visiting Mrs. Bav-erly D. Tucker, College Place, Norfolk, Va.

Misses Jean and Flora Cameron returned last week from a stay of several weeks at Virginia Beach.

Miss Mary Cecil, of Louisville, Ky., is visiting friends in Richmond, and will go from here to the Princeton finals.

The class of 1904, of William and Mary College, have issued invitations to the commencement exercises on Thursday, lung 4th, at 8:20 o'clock.

June 3th, at 8:30 o'clock.

Miss Cornella Millor is a guest at the Chamberlin Hotel, Old Point Comfort.

sister, Mrs. Turner Johnston, of Nor-folk. Miss Evans goes as the champion golf player of the Hermitage Golf Club to take part in the golf tournament at the Norfolk Country Club this week.

Miss Florence Barlow, the editor of the "Lost Cause," a monthly Confederate publication in Louisville, has been compelled, on account of her health, to give up her editorial duties. She will be succeeded by Mrs. J. T. McGutchen, of Jackson, Tenn.

Miss Barlow is well known and very popular in Richmond.

Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, who is the guest of Judge and Mrs. George L. Christian, was out driving with Judge Christian yesterday morning.

Miss Lula Barr, of Winchester, Va.

The Ideal Floor Covering. Hodges' Fibre Carpets & Rugs

Is the ideal Floor Covering-Artistic, Sanitary and durable. Sultable for any season of the year-particularly so for summer. This material has the effect of g beautiful carpet, the coolness of matting and twice as durable.

Patterns suitable for parlors, chambers, libraries, dining rooms, halls, stairs.

Every size Rug and Art Square.

Miller & Rhoads

UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT.

stretched out his right hand suddenly. His fingers closed in the collar of Victor Durnovo's coat, and that parti-col-ored scion of two races found himself freely trotting through the one street of

But the hand at his neck neither re linquished nor contracted. When they reached the beach, the embarkation of the little army was going forward under Maurice, Gordon's supervision. Victor looked at Gordon. He reflected over the trump card held in his hand, but he was too skilful to play it then.

CHAPTER XXV.

TO THE RESCUE. "I must mix mysolf with action lest I wither by despair."

POEMS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affeirs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.—Prof. Charles Eliot Norton.

THE NEVERMORE.

RY ROSSETTI.

This Sonnet is one from the sequence called "The House of Life," by Dante Gabriel Rossetti. A beautiful story tells how Rossetti buried the unpublished manuscript of these sonnets in the coffin with his wife. At the urgent prayers of his friends the grave was opened after some time and the manuscript taken out. It was, however, found enmeshed in the golden hair of his wife which had grown round and round it. A sketch of Rossetti has already appeared in this series.

OOK in my face; my name is Might Have

I am also called No More, Too Late, Farewell:

Unto thine ear I hold the dead seashell Cast up thy Life's foam-crested feet between Unto thine eyes the glass where that is seen Which had Life's form and Love's, but by my spell

Is now a shaken shadow intolerable, Of ultimate things unuttered the frail screen.

Mark me, how still I am! But should there One moment through my soul the soft surprise Of that winged Peace which lills the breath

Then shalt thou see me smile, and turn apart Thy visage to mine ambush at thy heart Sleepless with cold, commemorative eyes.

This series began in The Times-Disputch Sunday, October 11, 1903. One is published each day who graduated first in a class of five at the National Homocopathic Institute, in Washington, D. C., will spend the sum-mer with a wealthy patient at Cape May and return to the homotopic in the fall. and return to the hospital in the fall.

At the recent meeting of the Blue Ridge Hunt Club, which took place at Carter Hall Grove, Clarke county, the prize in the green hunter class was won by "Colonel," belonging to Mrs. Shirley Carter, of Winchester, Va.

Miss Helen Lee Mcliwaine, who has been spending some time in Washington, D. C., has returned to her home in Farm-ville, Va.

Mrs. Eva Burwell is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Langhorne Putney, at the summer home of the latter, "Seven Oaks," shear Richmond.

Mrs. Joseph H. Riddick will spend June at Penick's, Bedford county, Va.

Misses Bernice and Winifred Le Cato, of Norfolk, who are attending the Randolph-Macon finals in Ashland, are the guests while there of Mrs. Conway Har-. . .

Mrs. M. M. Lyons left last week to spend a month at Dixondale, Va.

Mrs. John Dunion will go to North Hatley, Canada, to spend the summer.

Hon. Joseph E. Willard and family have gone to their summer home, in Fairfax county, Va.

Mrs. W. Henry Venable has returned er home in Norfolk, after a pleasant risit to her brothers, the Messrs. Wight, in this city.

Miss Lillian Pace, who has been for some years associate principal of Washington Seminary, has been appointed to a University scholarship in the University of Pennsylvania, Miss Pace is now spending some time at her home in this

Miss Arabelle Winston is visiting her cousin, Miss Louise Gale, in Willoughby Avenue, Norfolk. Mrs. B. O. Gratz will be in Paris, Ky., for several months.

Mr. George M. Nolly will spend month of June in Ashland, Va.

Miss Jessle Jones is the guest of friends Miss Jesels Va. in Norfolk, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Washington W. Harwood Mr. and Mrs. Washington W. Harwood have sent out invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Julia Montague, and Mr. Lawrence Priddy, of Baitimors, on Wednesday levening, June 22d, in Trinity Methodist Church, Following the

The Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities will meet Friday, June 10th, in the rooms of the Virginia Historical Boolety at 5 P. M.

eremony there will be a large recep-

The annual meeting of the Oakwood Memorial Association to be held for the election of officers will take place in St John's school house Tuesday afternoon, June 7th, at 4:30 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

Miss Mary Drake is visiting Miss Mary Gravely in Danville, Va.

Miss Allene Stokes will visit the World's Fair at St. Louis with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer Adams, of Louisville, Ky. While in St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Adams and Miss Stokes will be at the 'Inside Inn.'

Mrs. Junius Mosby and her son, Mr

in Washington, D. C., this week. Mr. Cardoza has been invited to accompany Colonel Gordon on a visit of inspection through the mining district of West Virginia. Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Miller, of Philadel-phia, will be the guests this week of Dr. and Mrs. Calvin Stewart.

Inexpensive Clothing

the similar priced elsewhere is that it does not deteriorate quality, cannot buy trashy clothing here at any price; there's is none on sale.

Unless possessed of character and absolute wearing satisfaction, it finds no place here. Though cheaply priced, there is nothing cheapened in our productions. Fabrics that are dependable, styles that are correct, tallor-

---SUITS AT---

$7.50, $10.00, $12.50

BURK & COMPANY,

1003 East Main Street.

SOCIETY NEWS

That Has Character

msids, were white chiffon hats, edged with pink wreathed with tiny pink rose-buds, with ribbons crossed over them and tied under the chin.

Miss Alice Roosevelt is lingering in St. Louis longer than her original plans allowed, but the postponing of the Goelet-Whelon wedding has given her some extra days. Her visit is like a triumphal march and she has gone from one fett to snother with bewildering activity. Miss Roosevelt is at present more in the public eye than her charming stepmother, the mistress of the White House.

Lady Durand, wife of the British Amhassador, and Miss Josephine Durand left Washington on Wednesday and opened their summer home in Lenox. The Ambassador and his staff will join them in about a fortnight. Sir Mortimer Durand hebout a fortnight. Sir Mortimer Durand

SOCIETY NEWS

(Special to The Times-Diapatch.)

Baltimore, June 6th.

Quite a sensation has been aroused among the members of Baltimore's smart set by the report of Mrs. Basil Gordon's engagement to Baron Lehmann. Mrs. Gordon says in regard to it:

"I am not engaged to Baron Lehmann, In fact," she continued, with a gentle shrug of her shoulders, "despite the evident anxiety of the newspapers, both her's and in New York and Philadolphia, to have me engaged to be married, I am not engaged to any one, and have no idea of becoming so. Last year they had me engaged to a prominent New York man, who happened to visit me a number of times, and one New York paper sent a man all the way from that city to ask me if I was engaged to the man in question. It is sometimes embarrassing, and my friends will soon be afraid to speak to mo if every time a man pays me a call it is immediately said that we are engaged. Once this happened when the man was engaged to some one else, and that was very annoying, indeed. I, of course, know the baron quite well, and Ambassador and his staff will join them in about a fortnight. Sir Mortimer Durand has leased the Henry W. Bishop estate, "Interlaken," which lies between Laurel Lake and Slockbridge Bowl, and is one of the most picturesque spots in the Berkeshires. The German Ambassador and Baroness von Sternberg also went to Lenox this week and will soon open the summer embassy. Baroness von Sternberg is accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Charles Langham, and by Miss Violet Langham, who will remain throughout the season.

Miss Isabel May spent a delightful week in Philadelphila, where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Vanderbilt at the Horse Show. Miss May, who is the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Henry May, of this city, and nices of that Mrs. Randelph who married William C. Whitney, is the intimate friend of Miss Roosevelt and Countess Marguerito Cassini, and one of the leaders in the younger coterie. She is quite handsome and was adjudged the most attractive of the bevy of maids who attended Miss Cathleen Nellson when she became Mrs. Reggie Vanderbilt Miss May and her moider will sall for Europe about June 1st, and will spend the remainder of the season in London as the guest of Lady Bagot, formerly Miss.

guest of Lady Bagot, formerly Miss Lillian May, of Baltimore, and another sister of Colonel May. NEW YORK SMART SET. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) New York, June 6th.

have visited both his home and that of his brother when abroad, and I like him; but I am not engaged to him and never expect to be. Baron Lehmann himself was staying at the Hotel Ansonia, in New York, but could not be seen When a card was sent to his room. The baron is well known in Baltimore society, and is quite popular. Since the middle of February he has been slopping in Baltimore off and on every week. The baron has evidently once more been pursued by the ill luck in affairs of the heart which plagued him during his long and ardent courting of Miss May Brown, who is now Mrs. Thomas Gordon Hughes, of New York city. The baron's engagement to Miss Brown was rumored many (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

One of the special privileges of Stuart
M. Aldrich and Miss Martha Louise litackwell, who are to be married next Wednesday evening, is that they do not have to go to the Exposition on their wedding journey, as they are already at St. Louis, and have done the big show.
John D. Rockefeller, Jr., of this city, a brother-in-law of Mr. Aldrich, will be me of his ushers, and the others will be Richard Aldrich, one of his brothers; Mr.
Blackwell a brother of the bride, and others. Winthrop Aldrich, also a brother, will be the best man. Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and the latter's parents, Senator and Mrs. Nelson W.
Aldrich, await the occasion at St. Louis.
W. Gould Brokaw, it is announced, will ment to Miss Brown was rumored many times, and at one period met with only a faint-hearted tienlal. In this instance Mrs. Gordon's dignified but positive negro-live would seem to finally quelch all hopes; but Baron Lehmann has proved before his credence in the old proverb that "faint heart never won fair lady." WASHINGTON CHIT-CHAT.

pass the summer at Richfield Springs. He is one of the richest of the divorces and extremely eligible, and is a tail. good-looking fellow. His former spouse is new at Newport for the season and is Mrs. William G. Roelker, and was Miss Leonie Coudert. During the week, by the way, Mr. Roelker's former wife was reported as missing. Mr. Brokaw, like other multiplication millionaires, is apt to find time hang a little heavy on his hands. So if he stays for any period at one resort it will be a wonder. He is a son of Isaac V. Brokaw, and the family money was acquired by ready-made clothing.

There are quite a number of little lads here who are prospectively very rich and young. Dahlgren is one of them. He is the only child of the late John Vinton Dahlgren, and his mother, now Mrs. Harry S. Lehr, has no other heir. A story used to be told around Washington that the very ambitious wife of Admiral Dahlgren hearing that Mrs. Joseph Drexel was in the annual temporary retreat advised by the Roman Church, followed her and offered her sons to Mrs. Drexel's daughters. Be this as it may, the Misses Drexel became respectively Mrs. John Vinton Dahlgren and Mrs. Eric Dehl-Drexel became respectively Mrs. John Vinton Dahlgren and Mrs. Eric Dahlgren. Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Lehr will soon go to Arleigh, the Newport place on Eellevue Avenue, they have taken for the summer. Mr. Lehr is expected to lead the most notable cotillons of the season in the embarkation.

It was nearly dark when the little coast steamer secured by Maurice Gordon for the service turned her prow northward and steamed away.

"The truth is," Durnovo took an early opportunity of saying to Oscard, "that my nerve is no longer up to this work. I should not care to undertake this business alone, despite my reputation on the coast. It is a wonderful thing how closely the nerves are allied to the state of one's health."

"Yonderful!" acquiesced Guy Oscard.

down to Loango."
"Does he say that?" she asked, in her rapid, indistinct English.
"Who?"
"Vio-Mr. Durnovo."
"No," replied Oscard, wondering at the consetton.

question.
"He does not say anything about me or the children?" persisted Marie.

"And yet he says there is danger?"
There was a strange, angry look in her great dark eyes which Oscard did not

(To Be Continued To-morrow.)

"I must mix mysoff with action lest I wither by despair."

The man she openly in her own heart loved—was in an even greater that the man she openly in her own heart loved—was in an even greater that the man she openly in an even greater that the man she openly in an even greater that the man she openly in an even greater that the man she openly in an even greater that the man she openly in an even greater that the man she openly in the heart of the man she open it is a distinct that it is a ble met the man she open in the office of the factory long before. Manries of the sale of the purpose were all swallowed up in the didds. Her own danger, the horror was mixed to be the odds. Her own danger, the horror, where the horror was all she mand the my nerve is no longer up to this work of the sudden call to help Jack Meredith and t undecided. Victor Durnovo would have to be met sooner or later. Each day increased the strength of her conviction that her brother was in the power of this man. Whether he had really allowed himself to be dragged into the horrors of even a slight connection with the slave trade she could not tell; but she knew the world well enough to recognize the fact that Durnovo had only to make the accusation-integers, the men seems to the slight of the slave trade she could not tell; but she knew the world well enough to recognize the fact that Durnovo had only to make the accusation for it to be a thorough viliain one musq looking the slight of the

Randolph Cardoza, expect to visit friends

WASHINGTON CHIT-CHAT.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Washington, D. C., June S. 1904.

Incidentally the matrons and maids of honor, and likewise bridesmaids, at the June weddings are wearing the becoming poke hats. At the nuptials in Washington of Marshall Phillips, of Philadelphia, with Miss Annette Pell Townsend, of Washington, they were straw hats, trimmed with green leaves and pink roses, with the long ribbons across fastened under the chin. At the intensely smart Ames-Cryder wedding on Tuesday the two Miss Cryder, who were brides-that was very annoying, indeed. I, of course, know the baron quite well, and have visited both his home and that of great dark eyes which Oscard did not understand.

BALTIMORE

"He says that the tribes are within two days' march of his camp."

She gave an unpleasant little laugh.

"He does not seem to have thought of us at Msala."

"I suppose," said Oscard, folding the letter and putting it in his pocket, "that he thinks it is my duty to do what is best for Msala. That is why I asked you to speak to me."

Marie did not seem to be listening. She was looking over his head up the rivor, in the direction from whence the message had come, and there was a singular hopelessness in her eyes.

"I cannot leave until he tells me to," she said, dogredly.

Guy Oscard took the pipe from his lips and examined the bowl of it attentively for a moment.

"Excuse me," he said, gently, "but I insist on your teaving with the children to-morrow. I will send two men down with you, and will give you a letter to Miss Gordon, who will see to your wants at Loango."

MAKES BREAD THAT FATTENS